Satin, Lustre, Marsailles, Silk and Linen coats of all shapes, fashions and prices, also Pants, Vests, &c., from the finest to the cheapest.

Even in notions I have the largest and best selected stock. There is no merchant in the city able to show an assortment like this. If I should speak about my white and fancy Shirts, also Cravats, and Pocket Handkercheirs, it would be rather too much, as they can speak for themselves. I am fully prepared to encounter all combinations and oppositions which may array themselves against me, and will now sell goods at as small profits, as that he who undersells me must break himself or samebody else by the undertaking.

My sumply is types as large as have seen the second of the same and the second of himself or somebody else by the undertaking.

My supply is twice as large as I have ever hefore had, and all I ask is fair play—"Free trade and Sailor's rights."
